

Parish Walk No 65, Strathclyde Park to Chatelherault, 15th July, 2017

Our intention for the day was to do the circular walk at The Falls of Clyde, however, due to time restraints for one walker going on holiday and other reasons together with a low turnout (just five of us) we agreed to do the shorter walk from Strathclyde Park to Chatelherault Estate.

The weather was cloudy and mild with a little rain. The route along the River Avon was easy with a distinct footpath all the way. On reaching Chatelherault, due to the damp conditions, we decided to enjoy the nice tearoom available there.

We soon returned in the early afternoon to our starting point at Strathclyde. Although a short walk, it was still good exercise and very enjoyable, indeed. Thanks to all who took part. Our next walk, in August, will be in the Aberfoyle area – details to follow.
